FLOODING: FLOOD INVESTIGATIONS

Northamptonshire County Council is the 'Lead Local Flood Authority' for the County.

One of our legal duties is to investigate incidents of flooding, when considered necessary.

Such investigations are carried out to determine:

- Who has the responsibility for co-ordinating the management of the type of flooding involved
- Whether the responsible organisations/individuals have acted (or intend to act) in response to the flooding

When are they carried out?

When a completed Flood Incident Report Form is received by the County Council the details will be reviewed to see if a formal investigation is needed. The following tests are used to decide this:

- Has flooding affected critical infrastructure for a period in excess of 3 hours from the onset of flooding?
- Has internal flooding* of one property been experienced on more than one occasion in the last five years?
- Has internal flooding* of five properties in close proximity been experienced during one single flood incident?

* 'Internal flooding' as used here means where floodwater has crossed the threshold of a commercial or residential building.

 'Close proximity' as used here means where it is reasonable to assume that the affected properties were flooded from the same source (or a combination of sources, such as surface water and groundwater acting together).

Procedure

If it is decided that a Flood Incident Investigation is required, an Investigating Officer will first carry out a study of available information (such as mapping and historic records) and then visit the area that was flooded.

Flood Risk Management Authorities

It is not the responsibility of the Investigating Officer to provide a solution to the flooding problem itself, but to establish the cause and then notify the relevant organisations and individuals who need to take action. The people affected by the flooding will also be informed of the result of the investigation.

The relevant authorities/individuals include:

- Water companies (water mains and sewer flooding)
- Highways Agency/Northamptonshire Highways (road flooding only)
- The Environment Agency (main river flooding)
- District Councils/Borough Councils/County Council (for floods not affecting roads)
- Private landowners/homeowners, who have responsibilities in relation to land drainage and ownership of watercourses
- Parish Councils and the community generally.

If there has been widespread flooding in the county and a large number of Report Forms need to be investigated then the most serious will be looked at first, then the others. To make this decision, factors such as the number of properties affected; the extent, depth and duration of the flooding; the history of flooding in the area; and the impact on infrastructure (such as major roads, railways, electricity sub-stations and the like) will all be considered.

All Flood Investigation Reports will be published on the County Council website when the investigation is complete.

The Council will usually complete a Flood Incident Investigation within six months of receiving a Flood Incident Report form. This may not be possible on occasions when extensive flooding has occurred across the county.
